NURTURING PARENTING PROGRAM – FOSTER CAREGIVERS

NPP-CV is an 8-week program, typically done as a group process, though it can also be provided individually. Caregivers complete a pre- and post-test which is a self-report and helps to identify parenting beliefs and philosophy. The family participates in 3-5 parent coaching and parent-child observation sessions. A certificate is awarded upon completion of the training program.

NPP-CV is a family-centered, trauma-informed curriculum for foster caregivers and adoptive parents to help strengthen positive interactions, communication, family functioning, and the understanding of dynamics specific to substitute caregiving.

Testimonial: "My NPP facilitator took the time we needed on different aspects and let us ask questions. We are first time foster parents...we were able to personalize the class to our situation...Understanding the child's mental state empathy, routine, boundaries and consequences and learning new ways to communicate for better bonding experience."
